DETAILED ACTION

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11 and 21-22, drawn to a composite with an interlayer, classified in class 428, subclass 140.
- II. Claims 12-20, drawn to a method of making an interlayer composite, classified in class 156, subclass 307.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions Group II, claims 12-20 and Group I, claims 1-11 and 21-22 are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed could be made by phase separation and hardening of two incompatible mixtures followed by perforation and coating with a third layer, instead of supplying a porous interlayer.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and since the fields of search are not co-extensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. During a telephone conversation with Mr. Hans Koenig on 14 January 2005 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-11 and 21-22. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 12-20 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

7. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Eysel et al. (U.S. 2001/0051480).

See section 0019, which teaches two outer plastic layers that interpenetrate the porous scrim.

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 1-11 and 21-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eysel et al. (U.S. 2001/0051480 A1).

Art Unit: 1772

Eysel et al. teaches a fibrous scrim with outer plastic layer that interpenetrate the porous scrim as noted above. A wide variety of materials are taught for the scrim and outer layers (sections 0016 and 0021). The instant invention claims a polyester center layer and propylene outer layers. It would have been obvious to select polyester from the type of fibers in Eysel et al. and polypropylene as a specific type of olefin polymer from the types of cover layers taught by Eysel et al. in order to fully practice the teachings of the reference.

10. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to William P. Watkins III whose telephone number is 571-272-1503.
